WELCOME MESSAGE BY PRESIDENT CSI

Dear Esteemed Colleagues ,

Greetings from the Cardiological society of India.

We are delighted to welcome you all at the Cardioprevent 2025 conference being held in the historic and vibrant city of Indore. As the President of the Cardiological Society of India (CSI), I take immense pride in supporting this significant initiative that brings together renowned national and international experts with a shared mission—to address and mitigate the growing burden of cardiovascular diseases (CVDs) in India.

India stands at a critical juncture in its battle against heart disease. With lifestyle changes, urbanization, and aging populations, the incidence of cardiovascular illnesses has reached alarming proportions. More than ever, there is an urgent need to shift our focus from treatment to prevention. This conference reflects our that very commitment.

The scientific program has been carefully curated to highlight the latest research, evidence-based practices, and innovative strategies for prevention. Topics will include primary and secondary prevention, lifestyle modification, hypertension, obesity, dyslipidaemia, impact of pollution, inflammation, early detection, public health interventions, and policy initiatives—all crucial elements in our collective fight against heart disease.

We are honoured to have with us globally renowned faculty members and leading clinicians who will share their invaluable insights & experience in bridging the gap between guidelines and real world practice.

I congratulate and thank the organizing committee for their dedication in putting together this landmark event. I am confident that the discussions and deliberations over these days will serve as a catalyst for change and inspire actionable steps in our clinical practice as well as public health policy.

Let us work together to build a heart-healthy India.
